

M.A. in Education Completion Program for California Credentialed Teachers

The faculty of the M.A. in Education program recognize the value of the advanced education and unique experiences of teachers. That value is manifested in this completion program by providing credit for half the units of the full program. Credentialed teachers should not have to take courses that duplicate the knowledge they already have. Earning a teaching credential is a lot of hard work – courses, professional exams, observations, reflective essays, student teaching, lesson plans, etc. On top of all that, teaching is also learning and should be recognized as such. To complete the M.A. in Education online program, credentialed teachers take three core courses (10 units) and a set of elective courses (12 units).
